Language
Sub-strands	Content descriptions	Elaborations
Language for interaction	Understand that roles and relationships are developed and challenged through language and interpersonal skills (ACELA1551)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>identifying the various communities to which students belong and how language reinforces membership of these communities (the intimate language of family members, the jargon of teenage groups, the technicality of some online communities, the language specific to recreational groups, the interaction patterns of the classroom, the commonalities in migrant and cultural groups)</li> </ul>
Expressing and developing ideas	Analyse and explain the use of symbols, icons and myth in still and moving images and how these augment meaning (ACELA1560)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>investigating the use of symbols, for example the flag, the digger's hat and the Southern Cross in images, films and picture books, and evaluating their contribution to viewers' understanding of issues, for example national identity, recognising that visual and verbal symbols have different meanings for different groups</li> </ul>
Literature
Sub-strands	Content descriptions	Elaborations
Literature &amp; context	Interpret and compare how representations of people and culture in literary texts are drawn from different historical, social and cultural contexts (ACELT1633)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>exploring and reflecting on representations of values (for example love, freedom, integrity) in literature drawn from cultures and times different from the students' own</li> <li>exploring and reflecting on personal understanding of the world and human experience, interpreted in literature drawn from cultures and times different from the students' own</li> <li>reviewing historical fiction or nonfiction written by and about the peoples of Asia</li> <li>analysing literary texts created by and about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples (including documentaries, picture books, print texts and other multimodal texts) and also texts including film produced by and about peoples of Asian background, and considering the different ways these texts represent people, places, things and issues</li> </ul>
Responding to literature	Present an argument about a literary text based on initial impressions and subsequent analysis of the whole text (ACELT1771)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>interrogating and making judgments about a text, comparing others' ideas against the student's own and reaching an independent decision or shared consensus about the interpretations and ideas expressed</li> </ul>

Responding to literature	Reflect on, discuss and explore notions of literary value and how and why such notions vary according to context (ACELT1634)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• reflecting on and discussing responses to literature including plot events, setting details, characterisation, themes, structure and language devices used to achieve particular effects, and collaboratively formulating a list of factors that characterise merit</li> <li>• discussing, debating and evaluating the cinematic qualities and success of a film or new versions of a film</li> <li>• exploring the ways that context has shaped the representation of particular cultures, such as through the analysis of differing viewpoints in texts about different cultures or by comparing the ways texts from different periods reveal differences in viewpoints (for example differences in the portrayal of migrants in traditional and more contemporary literature)</li> </ul>
Literacy
Sub-strands	Content descriptions	Elaborations
Interacting with others	Use interaction skills to present and discuss an idea and to influence and engage an audience by selecting persuasive language, varying voice tone, pitch, and pace, and using elements such as music and sound effects (ACELY1811)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• participating in pair, group, class, school and community speaking and listening situations, including informal conversations, discussions, debates and presentations</li> <li>• using effective strategies for dialogue and discussion in a range of formal and informal contexts, including speaking clearly and coherently and at appropriate length, presenting a point of view and listening to other viewpoints, and negotiating an agreed position on an issue</li> <li>• choosing vocabulary, spoken text and sentence structures for particular purposes and audiences, such as debating a topic with a team from another school, creating a voiceover for a media presentation, and adapting language choices such as use of similes, metaphors and personification to meet the perceived audience needs</li> <li>• selecting voice effects such as tone, volume, pitch and pace for their specific effects, such as putting forward a point of view or attempting to persuade an audience to a course of action</li> </ul>
Interpreting, analysing, evaluating	Interpret, analyse and evaluate how different perspectives of issue, event, situation, individuals or groups are constructed to serve specific purposes in texts (ACELY1742)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• debating the reliability of the coverage in a range of news media of a contentious issue such as commercial logging of old growth forests</li> <li>• evaluating techniques used to construct plot and create emotional responses such as comparison, contrast, exaggeration, juxtaposition, the changing of chronological order, or the expansion and compression of time</li> </ul>

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• constructing questions to frame an analysis of differing representations on moral issues in texts, and including a critical analysis of a personal view in the overall analysis of the issue</li> <li>• identifying whether two texts may share a common purpose or audience, for example a feature article on a particular website or in a particular newspaper</li> <li>• analysing how issues are debated and reported in the media in different countries, and the possible reasons for this, for example ‘whaling’ in Japan and Australia</li> <li>• analysing and interpreting assumptions about groups that have shaped or influenced representations of people, places, events and things; identifying how listeners, viewers and readers are positioned by these representations, and supporting identified points with examples</li> </ul>
Interpreting, analysing, evaluating	Explore and explain the combinations of language and visual choices that authors make to present information, opinions and perspectives in different texts (ACELY1745)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• identifying or commenting on the author's approaches and use of techniques, design, form and style</li> </ul>
Creating texts	Create imaginative, informative and persuasive texts that present a point of view and advance or illustrate arguments, including texts that integrate visual, print and/or audio features (ACELY1746)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• presenting arguments that advance opinions, justify positions, and make judgments in order to persuade others about issues such as the importance of maintaining balance in the biosphere</li> <li>• creating imaginative texts with main ideas developed through the interconnections of plot, settings, characters, the changing of chronological order, foreshadowing in written, spoken and digital texts</li> <li>• creating informative and argumentative texts with explanations, details and evidence</li> <li>• following the structure of an argument which has a series of sequenced and linked paragraphs, beginning with an outline of the stance to be taken, a series of supported points that develop a line of argument, and a conclusion which summarises the main line of argument</li> </ul>
