The weekend creative writing workshop support you to take time out to be with the ideas and musings within, giving them space to emerge and delight and possibly even surprise. The workshop will focus on exploring voice in narratives and ways of bringing your writing together into a short story. The creative writing weekend is also about getting to know new people so we kick start the weekend with a Yummy Night on Friday at Yummy Studios where Lara will cook up a three course Ayurvedic meal and we will be entertained with live music. Lara's Yummy Nights are exquisite. You will come away feeling a natural high and be inspired to write your heart out over the weekend.
